AREA GUIDE

LOCAL AREA INTRODUCTION

Sailing in Turkey puts you at the crossroads of history, culture, geography and religion. This vast peninsula is surrounded by eight countries and on three sides by the Aegean, Black and Mediterranean seas. It's one of the world's oldest inhabited regions, a former home to Assyrian, Greek and Phrygian civilizations, among others. With more than 500 islands and islets and 4,400 miles of coastline, it is no wonder that Turkey is a sailor's paradise.

Turkey's culture and history is as ancient and diverse as its geography and climate. Homer's poem "Odyssey" is set in Turkey and the infamous Trojan wars were fought there. The capital was known as Byzantium by early Greek settlers before it became part of the Roman Empire and renamed Constantinople after Constantine the Great.

Start your sailing vacation in Turkey from our marina in Fethiye, perfectly situated on the Gulf of Fethiye at the center of the "Turkish Riviera", known for its favorable Mediterranean climate, mountainous scenery, spectacular ruins and over 4,400 miles of undeveloped coastline to explore.

For some of the area's best snorkeling, head to Wall Bay. Dine at the nearby family-run restaurant of Adaia, which can only be accessed by boat. Swim at the beach or kayak to the nearby Cleopatra's Bay (also known as Ruin Bay) to explore ancient ruins.

To sail in Turkey you will need a sailing license that is recognized by the local port authorities, or you can hire a skipper.

TOP THINGS TO DO IN TURKEY:

1. Visit Kapi Creek: A short, 8nm sail from our marina brings you to this scenic must-visit anchorage. Moor at the jetty, swim at the nearby beach, explore Merdivenli Cove and Seagull Bay or head to the hills to see ancient ruins.
2. See the tomb of Father Christmas: Gemiler Island, also known as St Nicholas Island, is where the tomb of St Nicholas (or Father Christmas) was believed to have been originally located and is one of the most popular things to do in Turkey. Climb the very steep hill to see the ruins of five churches built between the 4th and 6th centuries, one of which is cut into the rock.
3. Discover Butterfly Valley: Access to this lovely beach and bay, located in a valley surrounded by steep rocky cliffs, can only be by boat. At this secluded natural haven you'll find small beach huts and a bar. You can also walk to a nearby waterfall and see butterflies along the way.
4. See the ancient city of Kaunos: There are so many things to do in Turkey, but we'd recommend sailing to Ekincik and taking the local motorboat ride up the Dalyan River to the UNESCO ancient city of Kaunos, where you'll see six tombs of the kings cut into the sheer rock face. You can also visit the nearby mud baths with their fabled mystical healing powers.
5. Explore the ancient site of Pinara: While in Fethiye sailing, take an excursion to Pinara, an hour away by car followed by a winding walk up the hill. The remains of several ancient temples can be found here, as well as tombs, a theatre, and a church.

SAILING CONDITIONS

SAILING AREA

Sailing in the Gulf of Fethiye offers a number of lovely anchorages with short sailing distances. Within the Gulf of Fethiye is another bay called Skopea Limani – one of Turkey’s most beautiful cruising regions with lots of craggy-edged bays and inlets to explore. Around the bays you can enjoy shore and mountainside hikes through wooded pathways and ruined cities.

While in the Skopea Limani area, visit Kapi Creek. This lovely, protected cove is known for its boat accessible Kapi Creek Restaurant, which is also a bakery and has fantastic sunset views.

Nearby Fethiye is a gateway to Turkey’s rich archaeological treasures including the Antalya ruins with their rock tombs that formed part of Lycia’s ancient settlements. There are plenty of mooring opportunities at Fethiye and some hotels reduce the mooring fee if you enjoy a meal in their restaurant, so it’s worth a visit. Just a 20-minute walk away from the harbor are the Amyntas rock tombs.

Other popular stops while sailing the Turkey coast include Gemiler Island, Ekincik, and Kızılkuyruk Koyu on the Kapıdağ Peninsula.

WEATHER

With its long sailing season, the best time to visit Turkey is between April and November.

Temperatures in Turkey around the Aegean area register around 86°F in summer and 77°F in spring and fall.

TEMPERATURE

Climate in Fethiye Turkey:

- Summer high: The August high is around 97°F
- Winter low: The December low is 34°F

WIND SYSTEMS

The sailing conditions in Turkey are characterized by the meltemi wind, which blows from the NW to WNW in open waters, but follows the coastlines nearer to shore. Average wind speed is force 2-4 in the summer season but occasionally, in the high season, gusts can reach above force 6-7.

Outside the season, the meltemi is less powerful and even several days of light winds can be expected. The wind will normally pick up early in the afternoon, which is ideal for anchoring, although sometimes the meltemi continues during the night.

LOCAL FORECAST
